Payment Agreement

If you owe tax and are unable to pay the full amount, you may request a pay plan.

Income Taxes

Note: A pay plan cannot be set up until we process your return and determine the balance due.

You may request a pay plan for individual income tax either online at taxexpress.utah.gov , over the phone at 801-297-7703 (800-662-4335 ext. 7703), or by sending in form TC-804, Individual Income Tax Payment Agreement Request to the Utah State Tax Commission.

You may request a pay plan online at taxexpress.utah.gov after a one-time registration. In addition to requesting a pay plan, TaxExpress allows you to file and pay taxes, and manage your account online including the ability to view correspondence we have sent to you, change your mailing address, view balances, and schedule payments.

Pay plan requests are considered after your return is processed. If accepted, you will receive a letter stating the terms and conditions of the agreement. A pay plan does not stop penalty and interest from accruing and we may still file a tax lien to secure the debt.

You may make payments prior to approval of the pay plan or receiving a billing notice.

Business Taxes

Note: A pay plan cannot be set up until we process your return and determine the balance due.

You may request a pay plan for business taxes either online at taxexpress.utah.gov , over the phone at 801-297-7703 (800-662-4335 ext. 7703), or by sending in form TC-804B

Business Tax Payment Agreement Request

to the Utah State Tax Commission. If approved, you will receive a letter confirming the acceptance of your request.

You may request a pay plan online at taxexpress.utah.gov after a one-time registration. In addition to requesting a pay plan, TaxExpress allows you to file and pay taxes, and manage your account online including the ability to view correspondence we have sent to you, change your mailing address, view balances, and schedule payments.

A pay plan does not stop the accrual of penalty and interest. If you do not pay in full by the return due date, whether or not you request a payment agreement, any balance due will be subject to penalty and interest and a lien may be filed to secure the debt.
